Dear Sir or Madam,

Innovations are of great strategic importance for Henkel, because they provide the basis for our future business portfolio. Already today, around one quarter of our annual sales are generated by new, innovative products introduced during the preceding three years. Our intention is to increase this proportion in the future.

Henkel maintains a worldwide network, cooperating with more than 250 partners at universities. And we are constantly expanding this network. This collaboration makes it possible for us to recognize technological trends early and to assess their business potential.

We deeply believe in success of the new project coordinated by Delta Prototypes. The project is consistent with our main priorities: it's energy saving, environment friendly and what's most important very inventive. Therefore we will keep supporting with true enthusiasm the invention as we did from the beginning. We are very proud that we are able to contribute to this fascinating project with our Loctite products.

Yours faithfully,

Dariusz Żychowicz
